BEHOLD THE DEPOSIT GUARANTEE

Arising from the ashes of last year's financial system crucifixion was the Rudd government's guarantee to back its citizens' savings to the tune of up to $1 million each, providing those savings were deposited in banks, credit unions and building societies authorized by Australian Treasury as covered by the guarantee.

The deposit guarantee came into effect on 12 October, 2008 for a period of three years and was meant to ease the jitters of Australians looking for a safe harbour in which to dock their cash. Anxious to avoid a home-style version of queues rushing overseas financial institutions to withdraw cash before a crash, the Australian government's deposit guarantee was seen as the antidote to any threat of panicked behaviour here. Hard-earned savings, capped at $1 million, have now been guaranteed, should the worst happen. All should be well in the land of the multiplying dollar but is it?

In reality, the deposit guarantee has somewhat devalued the industry credit ratings financial institutions have worked diligently to achieve. The big banks in particular place much credence on being able to attract global and national business through being recognized as possessing a good credit rating, according to independent industry experts such as Standard and Poor's (S&P) or Moody's.

Consumers are now free to chase the highest interest rate for their savings, secure in the knowledge that authorized institutions are government guaranteed up to a million dollars. The safety of a bank, building society or credit union is no longer an issue. For the purists this flies in the face of fundamental principles of finance which suggest levels of return are directly linked to levels of risk. Understandably, the big banks protested on this point, particularly when panic-driven clients threatened to withdraw their millions and divide it up into the required one million dollar lots deposited across a spread of financial institutions. This ploy had serious ramifications for the funding activities of the affected banks but the fracas eventually quietened with the implementation of a surcharge in return for the government extending its guarantee to amounts over $1 million.

The S&P component of the star ratings has been reduced by CANSTAR CANNEX to reflect these changes. A small weighting remains for the savings profiles, reflecting the possibility of a delay or inconvenience in recovering funds in the event of a collapse.

WHAT GOES UP

2008 was a year of extremes for deposit account interest rates. A combination of back-to-back RBA rate increases, and banks competing for people's life savings to fill the void caused by damaged wholesale markets saw the interest rates offered to people looking for a safe haven for their cash reach a 13-year high. But, as the age-old saying goes, those rates that went up, soon came down. The graph below plots the average cash management account (CMA) rates of the five major banks against the RBA Official Cash Rate (OCR).

As soon as the RBA started cutting the OCR to give some relief to home borrowers and encourage spending in the hope of putting the brakes on a looming recession, deposit rates began to fall. All of a sudden the people who cheered as interest rates soared and home borrowers cringed, were finding themselves earning less than half the interest they were used to. To add insult to injury, there was also not a lot they could do about it. A look at the table below provides some solace in this seemingly hopeless time for savers and cash investors.

Online Savings Accounts - interest rate cuts
	Sept 1st 2008	Current	Change
Average Rate - all accounts	6.81%	3.65%	-3.16%
Average Rate - 4 major banks	7.03%	3.94%	-3.09%
RBA Official Cash Rate	7.25%	3.25%	-4.00%

source:www.canstarcannex.com.au, 27 Feb 09

After a total OCR rate cut of 4% since September 2008, the average rate offered on online savings accounts has only dropped by 3.16%. That means on average online savers have escaped 0.84% of rate cuts. The average for the 4 major banks shows an even better situation, with only 3.09% of cuts. This, combined with an average 3.8% cut on standard variable mortgages suggests that the institutions are still placing importance on their deposit funds.

BEWARE THE PROMOTIONAL RATE

With deposit interest rates falling on a daily basis, savers need to think twice whether or not the deal of the century they were getting six months ago is still worth their while. Retail deposits continue to be the safe bet for institutions looking to fund their loan book so the competition is still running hot. In an attempt to attract people offering their life savings to the highest bidder, many institutions are offering promotional rates on their online savings account far beyond the RBA official cash rate. These promotional rates can be a good way to score some short term returns, but potential customers should be aware of how long the offer is available for, and be prepared to reassess their choices at the end of the offer if they are still on the hunt for high rates.

NET CLOSES ON CASHED-UP CRIMS

Money-laundering schemes and financing terrorism may sound like key themes in a Hollywood movie but things have now moved a little closer to home. Charged with playing a major role in combating money laundering, terrorism financing and other dastardly crimes is – wait for it - your bank! As of December 2008, reporting Australian entities are required to meet new legislative obligations under the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Financing Act. Reporting entities include banks, non-bank financial services, remittance (money transfer) services, bullion dealers and gambling businesses.

The Australian Transaction Reports and Analysis Centre (AUSTRAC), a world-renowned and respected financial intelligence unit, is Australia's anti-money laundering and counter-terrorism financing regulator to whom banks etc will report regularly. How does this affect me, I can hear you ask. These requirements now mean there is more compliance foisted upon banks when opening deposit accounts. You can expect more questions to answer, particularly in relation to proof of identity. While it's not major, those intending to open new accounts in the near future should be aware of the tightening up of requirements and the reasons for this.

ATM FEES EXPOSED

The market for ATM transactions has changed dramatically. The Reserve Bank of Australia (RBA) has undertaken a reform of the ATM system, with the aim of increasing transparency and competition. The main issues in the past have been the confusion for consumers as to how much they are charged for ATMs, and the lack of potential for competition to drive prices down.

Under the new system, the interchange fees charged by the ATM owner to the financial institution of the person using the ATM have been replaced by a direct fee to the ATM user. This charge to the user now appears on the screen, and if the user does not agree with it they have the opportunity to terminate the transaction and take their card back with no fee having been incurred.

Previously the fees charged by card providers to customers for using a "foreign" (one not owned by your bank) ATM averaged between $1.50 and $2. Under the new system, initially these charges appear to be quite similar (see table below), but it is hoped that the competition theory will prevail and prices will be driven down. Whether or not this eventuates is yet to be seen. The RBA has combated competition's worst enemy – barriers to entry – by removing the need for new players in the ATM market to strike interchange agreements with each of the card providers. In an ideal world, we would see an influx of new ATM providers fighting for prices and spreading ATM coverage even wider to bring prices down in the city and accessibility up in the country. We have already seen reports of one of Australia's largest owner of ATMs – Customers Limited, who provide ATMs on behalf of banks such as Bank of Queensland and St George – introducing Mutlibank-labeled machines, a sign that providers are seeing the incentive to introduce more ATMs.

Suncorp	$0.80	$2

source:www.canstarcannex.com.au, 3 March 2009, charges may vary depending on time and area.

Economic theory is all well and good, but what does this all really mean for consumers? Firstly, they will need to be more discerning in their ATM transactions, as the costs will vary. This will be possible for those who have the spare time and patience, as the costs will be displayed on screen before the user commits to the transaction.

EFTPOS THE ANSWER

In a bid to combat ATM fees, we can expect a significant increase in the volume of EFTPOS transactions. These transactions come at little or no charge, and many shops even provide the option of getting cash out for no extra charge. Sure beats walking around town popping your card into countless ATMs in the hope of finding a cheap one!

DOUBLE DIPPING

As always, consumers should keep track of how much money they have available, as some ATMs charge both for a balance enquiry if requested first, and then a withdrawal if needed after. A survey of 10 ATM brands on the first morning of direct charging revealed that whilst the charges for a withdrawal were all quite similar, the charge for a balance enquiry varied greatly – anywhere from no charge, to $2. With the potential for fees to vary according to time and location, the full effects of direct charging are yet to be seen. Who knows what you'll pay at 3 AM inside your local pub or club, or at the MCG during the grand final?

THE WINNER IS?

The biggest benefit we have seen to consumers so far is an effective widening of the ATM network of many smaller players through agreements with the major players. So far, it had been reported that Westpac has made arrangements for many institutions such as GE, HSBC, and Members Equity Bank to allow their customers to use the Westpac ATM network without further charge, a huge boost to the coverage of these institutions. The Commonwealth Bank/Bankwest and Westpac/St George mergers boost the fee-free networks of four institutions. Credit unions and building societies will continue to reap the benefits of the rediATM network, with plans of significant expansion in the works. Institutions have until April 3 to report their partnership agreements, so there is still time for many more. If foreign ATM fees remain the same (we can only hope they go down rather than up with the help of the great beast called competition), the benefit of a wider coverage of fee-free ATMs for many consumers may just make it all worthwhile.

NEW PRODUCTS

Commonwealth Bank has launched two new transaction accounts which have performed well as rising stars across the transaction profiles. The Complete Access and Smart Access accounts offer a full range of access facilities and both currently offer a 1 year monthly fee waiver promotion when $2000 of salary is deposited per month.

ANZ has been busy introducing some interesting products. The ANZ SmartyPig is an online version of the traditional piggy bank. Savers can link the account to their MySpace or Facebook profile and invite friends and family to help them along with their savings goals.

ANZ's new Online Investment Account brings share market trading to the masses. It is an account that invests in Australia's 200 biggest companies, and is easy to access through ANZ Internet Banking. As with any market-based product, returns can be volatile and are not guaranteed, but this product may prove to be an easy stepping stone for those people interested in the possibilities of the share market.

With the aim of providing an impartial look at new and innovative products on the market, CANSTAR CANNEX has launched "What's New" on the website. Covering a range of product areas, What's New will keep consumers up to date on new and interesting products as they are launched.

A PRODUCT FOR EVERY NEED

Deposit products were rated for the CANSTAR CANNEX deposit account star ratings across four savings and three transaction profiles:

Online Saver

As the name suggests, an online account is managed via the internet only, with no branch access. Funds are generally accessed by transferring to a linked account.

Bonus Saver

These accounts reward regular savers and often penalize for withdrawing money. Great incentive for those who struggle to stick to a regular savings plan.

Cash Manager

Good base accounts to house significant amounts of money at decent interest on higher balances. Can move money around through internet, phone or branch access.

Junior Saver

Simple savings accounts for children. They feature low fees and branch access.

Electronic Transactor

These accounts suit people who bank frequently through electronic methods such as ATM, phone and internet. Average of 25 transactions per month.

• Low Transactor – Full Service

Suitable for people who prefer a wider range of transaction types such as branch, ATM, cheque, phone and internet. Average of 10 transactions per month.

• High Transactor – Full Service

Suitable for people who prefer a wider range of transaction types such as branch, ATM, cheque, phone and internet. Average of 35 transactions per month.

Each profile outlines the combination of rates, fees, features, access and credit rating most suitable for that particular type of customer. For more information on the weightings, accounts balances, and customer transaction behaviour used for each profile, see the methodology section at the end of this report.

What is the CANSTAR CANNEX deposit star ratings?

CANSTAR CANNEX deposit star ratings is a sophisticated rating methodology, unique to CANSTAR CANNEX, that compares deposit products in Australia. CANSTAR CANNEX star-rated products represent a short list of financial products. This short list narrows the search for consumers to products that have been independently assessed and ranked. All star-rated deposit accounts rated from one to five achieved a grade suitable for consumers to consider with qualities ranging from "Superior" to "Satisfactory". The CANSTAR CANNEX deposit star ratings is a transparent analysis comparing all types of deposit accounts for an array of characteristics such as:

Interest Rates
Accessibility
Rebates
Free transactions
Features

The results are reflected in a consumer-friendly 5-star concept. The star ratings from the CANSTAR CANNEX deposit star ratings are described as follows:

*	Superior Product	 Average Product
*	Excellent Product	Satisfactory Product
	Strong Product	🔅 Rising Star

Only the top 75% of the deposit accounts examined actually receive a star rating between 1 and 5. Rising Stars are those products that would be rated 3-star or higher but have not been in the market for over six months. Rising Star products will be formally rated in the next rating period once more historical data is available.

What types of products are evaluated for CANSTAR CANNEX deposit account star ratings?

The following account types are assessed in the ratings:

- Personal transaction accounts
- Savings and investment accounts
- High yield accounts
- Childrens' accounts

How are the CANSTAR CANNEX deposit account star ratings structured?

CANSTAR CANNEX recognises that deposit account users have different needs in terms of saving and transacting. Hence the CANSTAR CANNEX deposit account star ratings methodology has been designed to reflect a range of transacting and savings styles. Specifically the ratings consist of the following subsections:

The star ratings methodology differs for each customer segment in terms of the relative importance placed on the fees and features of the products assessed.

How does it work?

How are the 'stars' calculated?

Each deposit account reviewed for the CANSTAR CANNEX deposit account star ratings is awarded points for its comparative Pricing and for the array of positive Features attached to the account. These features include accessibility, conditions attached to interest payments and S&P rating of the institution offering the product. Points are aggregated to achieve a Pricing score (P) and the Features score (F)

To arrive at the total score CANSTAR CANNEX applies a weight (w) against the P and F. This weight will vary for each customer profile and will reflect the relative importance of either costs or features in determining the best deposit account. This method can be summarised as:

CANSTAR CANNEX star ratings methodology

TOTAL SCORE ( T ) = PRICING ( P ) + FEATURES SCORE ( F )

Total Score

The Pricing (P) plus Features (F) point scores are indexed and then totaled to provide the Total Index Points. Stars are awarded according to the Total Index Points.

Weightings

The factors described above are weighted differently for each customer profile. This is done in recognition of the relative importance of the different product components to each type of customer. The process considers each profile separately and assigns weights representative of that account type (see Table 1 below).

CANSTAR CANNEX accounts for both current and historical interest rates in the calculation of the PRICING (P) component of each product's overall score. Current fees are also used in the calculation of P. P comprises of:

- 1) Current pricing applying current fees to scenarios for each of the various transacting and saving profiles
- 2) Historical Performance compares the products' interest rate histories over the past 6 months. Interest rate tiers are taken into account.

The scenario analysis is conducted using CANSTAR CANNEX' unique transaction calculator, which incorporates essential transaction fees and charges, rebates and free transactions. The calculator interlinks the transaction behaviour of 500 hypothetical depositors with the pricing structure of the deposit accounts. The products with the lowest cost receive the highest score in the scenario analysis.

The following table describes the number of transactions and channels used in the scenarios.
